Article 28 on South Sudan

Developments in South Sudan Conflict: As if there are not Enough Chefs scrambling in the Kitchen!

Our Articles 1 to 3 and 5 to 27 were situation analysis of the conflict in South Sudan. Our articles 4 (A), 4 (B) and 4 (C) were the first of our series on “Who is Who”. This article (28) is dedicated ONLY to the alarming intentions and possible interventions of Egypt militarily. With an army of 778,000 in active service, and the largest in Africa, we will have completely different dynamics in South Sudan.

With Egypt sacked from the AU and at logger heads with the Lakes Group in the Nile Waters, they have no obligation to abide by their rules. Dr. Marial does not have a clue about the catastrophic consequences of inviting the Egyptians in!

President Mansour made the announcement after meeting with the South Sudan's Foreign Affairs Minister Dr. Barnaba Marial Benjamin who is in Egypt to attend the 141st Arab League conference.

The Egyptian President strongly condemned the failed coup attempt and expressed his support to the democratically elected president of the Republic of South Sudan, HE Salva Kiir Mayardit.

Egypt has been supporting developmental programs in South Sudan in the areas of agriculture, health, education and capacity building.

The President according to Dr. Benjamin promised to continue extending support to these key areas despite the current crisis in the country.

He further appealed to the South Sudan government to bring about dialogue between Egypt and the other Nile basin countries "so that the benefits of the Nile water can equally satisfy the member countries".

The Egyptian President who is so concern about the situation in South Sudan also promised to lobby the other Arab countries to provide special funds to sponsor South Sudanese students pursuing education in Egypt.
